Each table was decorated with ivy on a white background, and the gymnasium was decorated with a ceiling of silver aluminum. The Rev. The newspaper was judged on the following points: (1) As a News Medium to inform Readers; (2) As a Leadership Medium to Influence Readers; (3) As a Feature Medium to Entertain Readers; (4) As a Business Enterprise.

School Formally Opens Chemistry And Biology Lab

When Augusta Military Academy opened on Sept. 19, the science students there was a new chemistry and biology laboratory in which to work, with the latest of equipment installed.

Augusta offered, until last year, a course in pre-flight aeronautics, but it has been dropped from the course of study and the aeronautics laboratory has been converted into one for chemistry and biology.

A hood has been installed for carrying off noxious gases, new desks, drawer units, and sinks have been installed, and new equipment purchased for the chemistry section.

An aquarium has been installed in the biology section for genetic experimentation, and other new equipment includes animal specimens mounted in unbreakable plastic.

In addition, AMA will offer for the first time a course in geology, and collections of minerals and fossils have been purchased for it. The laboratory also has acquired a portable ultra-violet lamp for the detection of fluorescent minerals.

A Geiger-Muller counter and an electrostatic generator of the Van de Graaf type has been purchased for the joint use of the chemistry and physics departments in the study of atomic energy.

TOBACCO BOWL PARADE

The Roller Rifles put on an exhibition drill during the half-time intermission of the Virginia-V.M.I. Football Classic which featured the Tobacco Festival held in Richmond, Va., Saturday, October 18.

Friday evening the Roller Rifles took part in the parade honoring the Tobacco Queen and her Princesses. They passed in review before Her Majesty in Parker Field.

Following the football game, the cadets attended Coronation Ball and then they returned to Ft. Defiance to take up their duties where they left off, Friday afternoon.

A Memorial To "Mother Mac"

Few of the present cadet corps have had the pleasure of being acquainted with Miss Florence McCormick, school nurse at Augusta for over 37 years.

"Mother Mac" as she was known to thousands of former students is one of those unsung heroines who go on doing their duty regardless of the call upon their strength.

To make all happy was motto and well did she do her duty. Those of us who had the privilege of knowing her were the better for this pleasure. Her influence upon faculty and cadets alike was and will continue to be felt for years to come.

To know "Mother Mac" was to know Augusta as it has and will continue to be.

Her place will be extremely hard to replace for she is now among the immortals where she belongs.

TIME FOR EVERYTHING, INCLUDING ACADEMICS

Many of the new cadets here at A.M.A. who haven't gotten adjusted to the life here are complaining about the lack of spare time around a military school, especially here. We still find some old cadets who complain about the same thing. This is just natural, for we are rushed a great deal here. It is true that we are always on the go, but there is one thing here that has retained its place as being the one that requires most of our time and energy. That is our school work. This must come before all the rest of our activities, for it is the main reason that we are here.

The boy who is always complaining about the amount of homework a certain teacher gives him, will, on the other hand, spend most of the afternoon, which is the time that he has free, in the PX, shooting the breeze with some of the fellas. That is what we call poor management for if he really had the initiative he would devote his spare time to the studies that he is constantly griping about. This may mean a little work on his part, but he will be the one to benefit by it in the long run when the grades appear on the bulletin boards, and when he gets into college.

Now is the time for all of us to get down to the work that has been laid before us, for this can mean the making of us or the breaking of us in our future years in high school or college. When we get high grades the first few months of the school year, we can more or less ride on them for the rest of the year. This can only be accomplished by your, and only your, hard work. You know that you don't get anything for nothing in this world.

I hope that this will clear up a few of the wrong ideas that have found their way into some of the cadets here. I also hope that I can practice what I preach.

WE NEED CANDIDATES FOR THE BAYONET AND THE RECALL

During the past eight years the Bayonet and the Recall have won enviable positions of honors in national contests. This was due to the work of many cadets who were interested in bettering all previous publication records.

Again this year we have chosen as our goal an even better and larger school paper and yearbook but can achieve this record only through the help of every cadet in the corps.

No rewards or prizes are offered other than the promise that your English and your way of expression will improve in such a way that your marks in all subjects will increase in the value of grades.

There is a personal satisfaction derived from working with your fellow cadets in publishing the paper and annual.

See the adviser or any member of the staff and sign up for a year full of the real "Augusta".

I Am Your EDITOR

I am your newspaper editor.

Working through a staff of many editors, all specialists, I concern myself with all the printed matter in your newspaper that is not paid advertising.

These other editors are called managing editor, city editor, sports editor, society editor, business editor, etc. Each in turn handles the news in his own department. The managing editor supervises all the news-gathering.

Across our desks go all the words of news you read in your paper. We must decide what is news. It must be clearly and correctly written. We must find the news if it does not come to us.

The editor must be where news is happening, or see that some staff member is there to watch it. If the school has a graduation, that must be reported. The newspaper must get the news.

Once we have the news in the office, we must edit it, see that the stories are clear, concise, and above all, correct. We cut out unnecessary wordage, check any points that seem unclear, and double-check the news for any erroneous statements.

Then we must fit the news into columns provided for it. All the while we must keep in mind our "space budget" . . . columns to be filled with news, while the rest of the paper carries advertising. There may not be a line too much of news nor yet a line too little. Every edition the paper must be filled exactly.

No opinion must creep into the news columns. The editorial page is where you find the policy of the paper. In our editorials, which I write as a portion of my job, you find the policy of the newspaper. Some editorials reflect public opinion, some praise endeavors or individuals, some seek to reform where reform is needed, while others criticize where criticism is due.

We editors must be careful if the paper is to succeed. We use local stories at our disposal, buy certain features, and exercise our knowledge of news as a commodity available to the public. All this we must do in our paper, and your paper, is to be wanted by its readers.

Like an ancient Egyptian scribe, like a courtroom reporter, like the secretary of your club, I record the news in your newspaper.

I am YOUR editor.

I Am Your REPORTER

News is my business. I have no opinions. I give no advice. My interest lies in telling the story as it happened.

You find me in Colonel Roller's office, watching how the boys on the coal pile work. You will find me interviewing Smoot, the skunk hunter. You will find me at football games. I may be one of the men on your stoop. I may be A.M.A., you don't know. But the words I write are the words which appear in your news columns.

My job is to be where the news happens. I watch it happen and observe it carefully. Then I must write it impartially and correctly. There must be no hearsay in my stories.

The statements in my stories must be checked; the facts must be verified; the names must be spelled correctly. My story must contain what happened, when, where, whom it happened to, and, if possible, why.

I may be a new cadet reporting his first opinion of drill; I may be a sports enthusiast reporting the A.M.A.-Fork Union game; I may be a brilliant student of Colonel Gardner's 5 period Geometry class.

I am your reporter.

BETTER MOVIES COMING TO THE VISULITE AND DIXIE What To Read—See And Hear

"It is fairly easy to see why Hemingway's writing, in addition to being great writing, is great movie material. In his stories, the underlying ideas, the social comment, the reflection of a particular kind of people in a particular world, all the facts that make his writing serious and valid, are expressed in direct often brutal action against backgrounds that are fraught with history from a review of Hemingway's latest motion picture offering, THE SNOWS OF KILIMANJARO, points out precisely the universal appeal which I feel will make this picture enjoyable to each of you. There is strength in the language and force in the characters of a type more realistic and sincere than that which constantly draws the American public to the run of the mill western or detective picture. In addition to the appeal for the GO-SEE-AND-FORGET clientele there is enough depth to allow for regurgitation, further mastication, and digestion of a finer order. The main characters are a writer, three women and a mountain, all of them fine specimens of their kind. The flash back technique is used to review the writer's life as he awaits the approach of death on the slopes of the mountain which is called the House of Godo. Such capable players as Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward and Ava Gardner help to reproduce the characters as clearly and realistically as possible. See This One.

There are three other movies that I would like to suggest as enjoyable entertainment. The first is a frontier picture, THE BIG SKY, based on A. B. Guthrie's best selling novel of a riverboat expedition up the Missouri. The second, The Happy Time is a story of a family and especially an adolescent member of it. It is taken from the Broadway hit of the same name and is filled with a roguish and completely captivating humor. The third is another Bing Crosby picture. His name alone is enough to make it a box office success. The title is JUST FOR YOU. It is another simple story of the type that makes one feel that the world is not so bad after all.

With the hope that you have many passes to see enjoyable shows with fine companions I bid you adieu.

HOW ABOUT FORMING A READING CLUB?

When the new Language Laboratory opens in the near future, there will be many added features which should attract all types of students.

Among one is the Record Library with the latest in popular Classic and Hill-Billy disks to be heard and enjoyed.

The Book Corner will contain many of the latest best-sellers for all to read.

More will be announced in the next Bayonet about this newest of educational features to be added to the long list of improvements which sets Augusta apart from the average prep school.

For this month we recommend the following books for true enjoyment. GIANT. By Edna Ferber: This is the biggest witch's broth of a book to hit the great Commonwealth of Texas. The author herself writes that she doesn't like the Texas she writes about, and it's a cinch that when the Texans read what she has written about them they won't like Miss Ferber either.

Her Texas is a state where the skies are clamorous with four-engined DC-6's carrying almost anything, where "a mere Cadillac makes a fellow no better than a Mexican".

She paints a portrait of that new American, Texianus, which is a "picture". She does this by marrying her heroine, Leslie, an elegant Virginian, to Jordan Benedict 3rd, head a ranch which has frontiers that stretch into the middle of tomorrow.

When he brings his lovely bride into his cattle empire, he takes you and me on a trip that will dazzle all of us by what we see.

BEYOND THE HIGH HIMALAYAS. By William O. Douglas. This is another book that is wonderful for many reasons—it is both entertaining and informative; the political passages scattered among the anecdotes and descriptions should fascinate the armchair traveler and make it an important book as well.

When Mr. Douglas talks politics he talks as one who has had first hand contact with the people whose ideas he tries to convey to you.

He feels that our policy in Asia has been one of military power and for that reason we are losing this part of our world as our friends. We helped Yugoslavia free herself from Soviet imperialism so why do we not try the same method with Red China.

It is good reading and should be on our "must" list.

THESE ARE YOUR SONS. By Timothy J. Mulvey. The book is a collection of tales about men like them, written by a priest with radio and movie writing experience who went to Korea to write about the war and the men who wage it.

He writes about a wounded Dutch volunteer who lay alone in a hut for fourteen days without food; about Herman Littleton who threw himself on a hand grenade to save his buddies, etc.

The editors of this column would like to know who would be interested in reading books that are reviewed here. Address your replies to Feature Editor, The Bayonet and perhaps we can arrange to organize a Reading Club.

How Many Can You Answer?

1. A Constitution party has been formed by some citizens of Philadelphia. A Constitutional Union party had an important role in one Presidential election. What election was that?

2. General Eisenhower quoted a former President when he said: "I believe a public office is a public trust." Was he quoting (a) Glover Cleveland, (b) Theodore Roosevelt, (c) Calvin Coolidge?

3. Governor Stevenson at Hamtramck, on Labor Day, said: "The freedom of the descendants of Kosciusko and Masaryk * * * is an issue between all the free nations and the Soviet Union." What are the nations of Kosciusko and Masaryk?

4. President Truman revives an old Americanism, "smollygoster," meaning persons who seek office regardless of party or principles and who try to get elected by saying nothing. What do these other old political terms mean: mugwump, copperhead, know-nothing, locofocos?

5. General Eisenhower's "fumble, stumble and fall" recalls a phrase President F. D. Roosevelt used effectively in one of his campaigns. Do you remember it?

6. One of the campaign issues mentioned by the candidates last week involved Senate Rule 22. What subject does that cover?

7. The British Trades Union Congress last week opposed denationalization of industries proposed by the Conservative Government. Which of these industries—coal, steel, radio, television, transport, aircraft—are nationalized?

8. The world's first four-engine jet bomber, the British Avro 698, is called a Delta jet. Why?

9. The American Ambassador to Turkey, George C. McGhee, his wife and two children swam the Bosphorus last week. Can you name two famous personages who swam the Hellespont at the other end of the Straits which divide Europe and Asia?

10. Chile, holding a popular election for President last week, had 1,100,000 registered voters and 80 per cent of these were expected to vote, out of a population of about 6,000,000. Is Chile's vote as "popular" as that of the United States?

11. Apropos of Ernest Hemingway's new book, "The Old Man and the Sea", can you say who was the original Old Man of the Sea? (Answers on page 4, column 1)

PREDICTIONS OF REMAINING GAMES

With A.M.A.'s new athletic policy in effect we have a football team made up of the full paying students and not the ones brought in just to play football.

The first game under the new set-up ended in a loss to Hargrave. However, the team showed plenty of spirit. It must be considered the team was green and had only been practicing a short time while Hargrave had played two games.

The next game with Aldea High School should be the first win for the Blue and White. Aldea even though we do not have much information, should only have a small and powerless team.

The Emory & Henry JVs have a good team with a good passing offense. S.M.A.'s powerhouse team beat them 27-0 mostly because of a stellar defense. This game will be a tough one for A.M.A., but they can come out on top if they play the kind of football they are capable of.

The Stuyvesant game is a blind guess. We know nothing about their team whatsoever, but the Augustans should pick up a win.

Miller School will be an easy victory for A.M.A. They have lost to Fishburne 60-0 and small V.E.S. of Lynchburg by 30 odd points.

Edwards Military Institute has a excellant team and will also be a tough one for A.M.A. S.M.A. ran over Edwards 39-6 and held them to a minus 25 yards on the ground. Remembering S.M.A.'s powerhouse A.M.A. can win by a close margin.

The annual Thanksgiving game with Fishburne is rated a toss-up because of the great rivalry between the two schools. Fishburne beat Miller School 60-0 which means nothing in the way of power considering the Miller team. They lost to St. Christopher's of Richmond 24-0. These scores do not show to much about Fishburne and A.M.A. should come out on the long end of a close score.

NEW HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP—ROCKY MARCIANO

Young Rocky Marciano proved the experts were right when he knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in their championship bout. The odds makers had given Marciano a 3 to 2 chance to win the title on the basis of his age and he had never been floored much less knocked out.

Walcott at the age of 38 proved he still had it when he knocked Rocky off his feet in the very first round. He also had a lead of not less than 2 rounds on both Judges' and the Referee's score cards.

Considering the advantages Marciano had, Walcott's defense of his title was a remarkable performance. He lost the fight by one blow to the jaw in the 13th round.

Introducing Our New Coach Jim Morris

James E. Morris, former New England prep school coach and athletic director, has succeeded Jerry Claiborne as head football and basketball coach at A.M.A. Claiborne now has a coaching position at the University of Kentucky.

Morris has been farming near Staunton during the past year. He came here after six years as athletic director and head coach at Kingswood School in West Hartford, Conn. He also was president of the Eastern Preparatory Schools Athletic Association.

A Catholic University graduate and a former professional football and baseball player, Morris has been active in sports around Staunton. He played with the local baseball club during the summer, is a football official, and conducts a radio program over the Staunton station each Saturday during the football season. He gives scores of all the games and discusses the highlights.

The new A.M.A. coach is married and has three children.

Montevideo Jayvees Tie Augusta Tigers

Montevideo tied the Augusta Tigers in the opening of the season for both teams, the final score being 0-0.

Neither team was able to do much offensively throughout the first three periods. Augusta gave Montevideo two opportunities to score, once when Toitey misjudged a punt and Jones of M.H.S. recovered on the Augusta 20.

Taking over the ball on the 2 yard stripe, Augusta made only 3 yards in three downs but on the fourth Manuel Balbis scampered 46 yards to midfield.

Augusta made another first down and then gained another 15 yards on a penalty and were making yardage almost at will when the whistle ended the 0-0 game.

TIGERS 6—V.S.D.B. 0

Manuel Balbis, on a pass from the Tiger quarterback T.C. Lea, ran 32 yards for the only score in the game with V.S.D.B. This touchdown was made possible through the splendid blocking of his teammates, especially Pat Stanton who took care of the VSDB safety man.

This was the second game in two days for the Tigers.

Neither team showed much power on the offense and the ball stayed within the 40 yard marker on both sides of the field.

Only in the waning minutes did either team come to life. Augusta's try paid off and in the remaining time VSDB vainly tried to score.

It displayed a potential quarterback in Ed Quillin, and a good runner in Dave Fletcher. The com-

Hargrave Stops Augusta, 22-0 In First Game Under New Policy Set-Up

Hargrave Atones For 54-0 Defeat Given Them In 1951

Displaying a set of hard-running ball carriers and a comparatively small, but charging, line, Hargrave Military Academy rolled to a 22-0 victory over Augusta Military Academy at Fort Defiance.

It was the season's debut for the Augustans under their new policy of athletic de-emphasis, and the third outing for the Chatham prep school gridsters whose record now stands at 2-1.

HMS Scores In Every Period

Hargrave scored in every quarter to register its first victory over Augusta in recent years.

In the first Stanga Halfback Bucky Wright swept 23 yards outside end for the game's initial counter, in the third Fullback Orville Beard took the same route for three yards and a score, and in the fourth Quarterback George Turner tossed 27 yards to End Joe Cowley.

A Safety For HMS

Hargrave had picked up a safety in the second canto when Tackle Julian McCubbin caught Tommy Simmons, in the end zone. For the two remaining points Bill Sullivan dropped back from his guard position to put two placements through the uprights. A third attempt was blocked.

AMA Has Little Experience

Augusta fielded a big ball club, especially up front, but as Coach Jim Morris had pointed out before the game, showed lack of experience. Augusta's followers can get some consolation, however, out of the fact the team showed spirit and possibilities of developing into a winner in its own league.

It displayed a potential quarterback in Ed Quillin, and a good runner in Dave Fletcher. The combined talents of these two accounted for the bulk of the yardage acquired by Augusta.

Following an exchange of fumbles around midfield and three penalties, two for 15 yards, against them, the visitors got possession of the ball on Augusta's 24 after Bucky Long's 21-yard punt return.

Then, on third down, Wright took a pitchout from Long and sailed 23 yards around his own left end for the game's first marker.

Sullivan converted to make it a 7-0 ball game.

Augusta Moves

Starting from its own 30, Augusta displayed some offensive fireworks, moving for two firsts just beyond midfield. Quillen and Fletcher did all the carrying in that drive.

But at midfield Hargrave stiffened, threw the locals back into their own territory, and forced a punt. Ronald Savage broke through to block it and Hargrave recovered on the Augusta 25.

The visitors moved for a first inside the 15, but Augusta held for three downs and Quillen batted down a fourth down pass in the end zone to give his team possession.

Two players later, however, the visitors picked themselves up two points. On the first play Fletcher was dropped on the six and, to run a pitchout out of the end zone but was dropped by McCubbin for the safety.

Joe Furr Recovers Fumble

Joe Furr recovered a fumble moments later to give Augusta possession on the Hargrave 44, and Quillen passed to Bill Bach on the 26, but the visitors threw their hosts back to the 33, took possession and retained it until intermission.

A 21-yard runback of a punt gave Hargrave possession of the ball on the Augusta 34 in the third period, into Hargrave territory on Quillen's down-the-middle toss to Fletcher.

But Savage intercepted a Quillen aerial at midfield and it took Hargrave just seven plays to score.

A 25-yard sprint by Beard to the 25 was nullified by a clipping penalty, but George Scott, Beard, Wright, and Beard again romped for successive first downs to the three, and Beard went wide around left end from there for the score.

Sullivan split the uprights again for the 16th point.

Another intercepted pass at midfield, this time by Turner, set the stage for the visitors' final counter. A long pass, Turner to Wright, and a long run by Beard were nullified by penalties, but on third down, with 17 to go for a first, Turner passed to Wright on the 39.

Scott got six over guard and Wright cut inside end for a first at the 27. On the next play Turner hit Cowley in the end zone for the t.d.

This time Captain Dan Boger broke through to block Sullivan's placement, and that, to all intents and purposes, was the game.
